Foreword

Where the tall pines stand in greatness
'Neath the skies of blue,
Stands our noble Alma Mater
Glorious to view.

Lift the chorus, speed it onward
May it never fail,
Hail to thee, our Alma Mater,
HAMLET HIGH, all hail.

In years to come we shall look back over long hours spent at HHS. The years we walked her halls — sat in her classrooms — played on her grounds—studied our lessons and grew in knowledge. We met people and made lasting friendships. We grew in statue and mind. The rough times we gave our teachers — the study of Macbeth — the football games with the Rockets — the notes passed under teachers' noses — little incidents and happenings, these things we must leave behind as we venture onward.

Closing the doors of HHS behind us, we, the Senior Class, present

It seems that in this sports-minded town of Hamlet, all emphasis is being placed on football this fall. Almost the whole town goes to the games and sees outstanding plays made by the team. But all of the boys can't be players, and all of the players can't be heroes, so who is it then behind our team? It is those unsung heroes, the managers, who are always behind the scenes.

This year, as usual, our team is bless-

Another improvement in our high school is the addition of a new member to the faculty. This year we have at need and demand a new counselor. Who is in this position than Carson Oldham? For many years we have had our own, even away from us for

On the first day of school, the senior class met and elected George Cox as its president. George, who was president of his home room last year and is a member of the Beta Club, presided over the meeting as Katie Gibson was secretary; Jackie Pittman, treasurer; Joey Stowe, chaplain.

The students-at-large elected in each homeroom, are Roberta Brown, Janice Hancock, Delores Maples, and Larry Strong; the homeroom treasurers are Jan Covington, Fran Lancaster, and Margaret Whisenhunt.

With leaders such as these, the senior class has a bright future.

sents a problem in the hallways. On operation difficult.

For quite a while we have heard that the school is in a state of confusion. This period has perhaps been a very busy one.
